7.1 Competition System

Men's teams will be divided into four groups: Group A, Group B, Group C, Group D, and each group consists of four teams, of whom A1, B1, C1 and D1 are seeded teams.

Women's teams are divided into two groups: Group A and Group B, of whom A1, A2, B1, and B2 are seeded teams. The International Rugby Board (IRB)/Asian Rugby Football Union (ARFU) Ranking system will be utilized for the teams in the groups.

The competition will have two phases: Preliminary Matches and Knock-Out Matches. The Preliminary Matches will be conducted on a round robin basis.

In men's competition, the teams classified first in each group and the teams classified second in each group will play cross-matches. The winners of the cross-matches will be in the semi-finals; the winners of semi-finals will meet in the gold medal match, and the losers will meet in the bronze medal match. The Team that won that Match shall be deemed to have finished higher in the pool competition table. If the Match between the two Teams equal on competition points at the end of the pool stage was a draw, then the following process shall be used to determine the placing.

- (3) The teams concerned shall be ranked by reference to the number of points scored in all Preliminary Matches. The team with the highest number of points scored in the Preliminary Matches shall be ranked higher in the group competition table. If the tie still remains unresolved then :
- (4) The teams concerned shall be ranked by reference to the number of tries scored in all Preliminary Matches. The team that has scored the highest number of tries in the Preliminary Matches shall be ranked higher in the group competition table if the tie still remains unresolved then :
- (5) Tie will be resolved by the toss of a coin between the Team Managers concerned.
